Eynsford Concert Band

The Eynsford Concert Band is a community wind band that has been based in the village of Eynsford, Kent since 1972. Over the years, the band has developed into a successful group of talented musicians, performing regularly in theatres, parks and in musical contests and festivals, both across the United Kingdom, as well as abroad whilst on tour.

Under the direction of John Hutchins the band is now moving into a new era. This small village band has grown in both size and reputation and is looking to take-on a more challenging and rewarding repertoire. Whilst maintaining local links, the band is aiming to perform further afield, balancing the community's traditional needs with the more contemporary music of the Concert Hall.

John Hutchins

John Hutchins has enjoyed connections with the Eynsford Concert Band for some time and was appointed Musical Director in 2003.

Having graduated from the Royal Academy of Music with a first class honours degree, John is now enjoying a career as a freelance trumpeter. He has performed worldwide with orchestras such as the Royal Opera House Orchestra, the Ulster Orchestra and the Philharmonia.

John is also a keen exponent of baroque music specialising on the natural trumpet (an instrument without valves). He performs and records with some of the world's finest Baroque ensembles including The Kings Consort, The Sixteen, the Orchestra of the Age of Enlightenment, Florilegium, the Hanover Band, the New York Collegium and the Stuttgart Baroque Orchestra.

Brass coaching features highly in John's career encompassing work as far a field as the Vietnamese Symphony Orchestra and Wells International School of Music. He has also contributed to various brass publications and co-written a study book for trumpet. He currently teaches at Junior Trinity College and is Professor of Baroque trumpet at the Royal Academy of Music where John was recently elected Associate.
